4. How long we keep your information for

We are required to keep your information for several years so that our third party funders can audit our operations. Currently this period is 7 years, but this may change in the future. We will not store your data for any longer than is necessary for us to comply with this legal obligation.

5. Direct Marketing

If you have already engaged with Foundation, such as participated in programmes or have received newsletters, we will only contact you by electronic means (e-mail or SMS) with information about similar philanthropic activity. If you are new to engaging with Foundation, and where we permit selected third parties to use your data, we (or they) will contact you by electronic means only if you have consented to this.

6. Disclosure of your information

We may share your personal information with any member of our group, which means our branches, or affiliated non-profit.

We may share your information with selected third parties including:

- third party funders, in order to fulfil our administrative purposes or for reasons of legal compliance,
- business partners, suppliers and sub-contractors for the performance of any contract we enter into with them or you,
- advertisers and advertising networks that require the data to select and serve relevant adverts to you and others,
- travel agencies, transportation services providers, and similar organizations to provide logistical support to you,
- restaurants, hotels, caterers, and similar organizations to cater to your food and accommodation preferences,
- analytics and search engine providers that assist us in the improvement and optimisation of our website and associated platforms, and/or
- credit reference agencies for the purpose of assessing your credit score where this is a condition of us entering into a contract with you.

We may disclose your personal information to third parties:

- In the event that we dissolve the Foundation, we may disclose your personal data to the prospective recipient of such business or assets.
- If we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation, or in order to enforce or apply our terms of use and other agreements; or to protect the rights, property, or safety of Foundation entities, our customers, or others. This includes exchanging information with other companies and organisations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction.

How third parties handle your data is determined by their own privacy policies. Although we endeavour to protect your data via contractual arrangements with third parties, Foundation accepts no liability for the use of such data by third parties.

7. Where we store your personal data

The data that we collect from you may be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside the European Economic Area (EEA). It may also be processed by staff operating outside the EEA who work for us or for one of our suppliers. Such staff may be engaged in, among other things, the granting of philanthropic funding, the processing of your payment details and the provision of other support. By submitting your personal data, you agree to this transfer, storing or processing. We will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this privacy policy.

All information you provide to us is stored on our servers, on servers owned and operated by our hosting providers, or on encrypted haddisks in laptops and desktop computers owned by Foundation and operated by Foundation employees. Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password which enables you to access certain parts of our website and associated platforms, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We ask you not to share a password with anyone.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted to our website or associated platforms; any transmission is at your own risk. Once we have received your information, in line with our internal security policies (including in respect of IT equipment such as laptops and mobile phones), we will use strict procedures and security features to try to prevent unauthorised access.

8. Your rights

You have the right to ask us to amend, not to process, or to delete your personal data. Furthermore, you have the right to ask us to transfer your data to a third party. You can exercise your rights by checking certain boxes on the forms we use to collect your data or by contacting us at privacy.office@climate-kicfoundation.org. You also have the right to access information held about you. Your right of access can be exercised by sending an email to privacy.office@climate-kic.foundationorg.

9. Third party links

Our website and associated platforms may, from time to time, contain links to and from the websites of our partner networks, advertisers, affiliates or third parties. If you follow a link to any of these websites, please note that these websites have their own privacy policies and that we do not accept any responsibility or liability for these policies. Please check these policies before you submit any personal data to these websites.

10. Changes to our privacy policy

Any changes we may make to our privacy policy in the future will be posted on our corporate website and, where appropriate, notified to you by e-mail. Please check back frequently to see any updates or changes to our privacy policy.

11. Contact

Questions, comments and requests regarding this privacy policy are welcomed and should be addressed to privacy.office@climate-kicfoundation.org.
